Adams Rite to Show Elegant, Keyless Digital Door Lock for All-Glass Openings at AIA Orlando, 2017

The surface-mounted RITE Touch RT1050 from Adams Rite provides flexible, keyless access control for single or double all-glass doors, with ADA compliant lever option

Phoenix, AZ – April 27, 2017 – ASSA ABLOY Group brand Adams Rite is pleased to showcase the RITE Touch digital door lock with new ADA compliant accessibility lever, in the ASSA ABLOY booth #2311, at the AIA Conference on Architecture, Orange County Convention Center, Orlando, Fla., April 27-29, 2017.

The Adams Rite RITE Touch provides keyless access control for all-glass openings, offering sophisticated styling, convenient and flexible access control, for both single or double glass doors. Perfect for indoor applications, the easy-to-install, surface-mounted RITE Touch combines elegant aesthetics with the latest touchscreen technology, to bring together the best of style and security.

“As preferences for natural light and the clean, modern look of glass continues to expand, glass entrances for interior applications are becoming increasingly popular,” said Heather Goldman, Senior Product Manager, Adams Rite. “All-glass openings are beautiful, but they can be difficult to secure. The RITE Touch offers a thin, low-profile, sleek looking, surface-mounted design that requires no modification to glass, while providing all the benefits of leading access control technology.”

The new ADA compliant accessibility lever option offers compliance while providing an aesthetically pleasing security solution for design professionals and building owners.

ASSA ABLOY is proud to support the American Institute of Architects. Please visit Adams Rite and many other ASSA ABLOY Group brands on display at AIA’17, booth 2311.
